NSZL as a Book Publisher has been present on the Hungarian book market with its prestigious publications for years now. The Library publishes 26 to 30 publications annually, based on its unique collection and on the special knowledge of its staff members. On its own or jointly with renowned Hungarian and international publishing houses, NSZL publishes a wide range of books including facsimile editions, decorative albums, conference and study volumes, gap-filling bibliographies and exhibition catalogs. The primary aim of Library publications is to publish results of scientific research carried out by staff members, and our publishing activities are also due to nation-wide tasks, unique bibliographical and special library activities, as well as rich museum activities. Our tasks related to book and cultural history, special library tasks and hungarica research also occasionally require facsimile editions of the unmatched treasures owned by National Széchényi Library. At the same time, the Hungarian national library publishes several periodicals and institutional yearbooks.

Our English-language decorative album entitled Collectors and Collections. The Treasures of the Collections in the National Széchényi Library presents the major collections kept in National Széchényi Library, including, among others, the Kossuth Library, the Library of Hungarian Women, collections of Count Sándor Apponyi and Gyula Todoreszku, the bequest of Ernő Dohnányi, etc. This representative volume was first published in Hungarian in 2009, in cooperation between NSZL and Kossuth Publishing House. However, so far we could not come out with an English-language version for those interested in the Library across the world. The book offers rich and useful content on the collections of the Hungarian national library, as well as on their history, guiding readers through various periods of the history of Hungarian culture. The decorative album is also ideal for representation purposes.
