Digital Library includes several services among which one can find online databases, content services and thematic compilations based on electronic documents stored in National Széchényi Library.

NSZL aims at providing and making accessible as many electronic documents as possible out of its e-stock getting richer every day by way of digitizing, collecting and voluntary donation. Of course, copyright obligations are always taken into consideration.Book-like digital copies featuring full text can be searched for in NSZL Digital Library and in the database of Hungarian Electronic Library. Online and digitized periodicals are stored in Electronic Periodicals Archive & Database, while image documents can be found in the Hungarian Digital Image Library, a representative selection compiled from the stock of several libraries, as well as in the Hungarian Digital Archive of Pictures based mainly on donations.

Out thematic websites and virtual exhibitions are made by using NSZL’s most precious documents and Special Collections.
