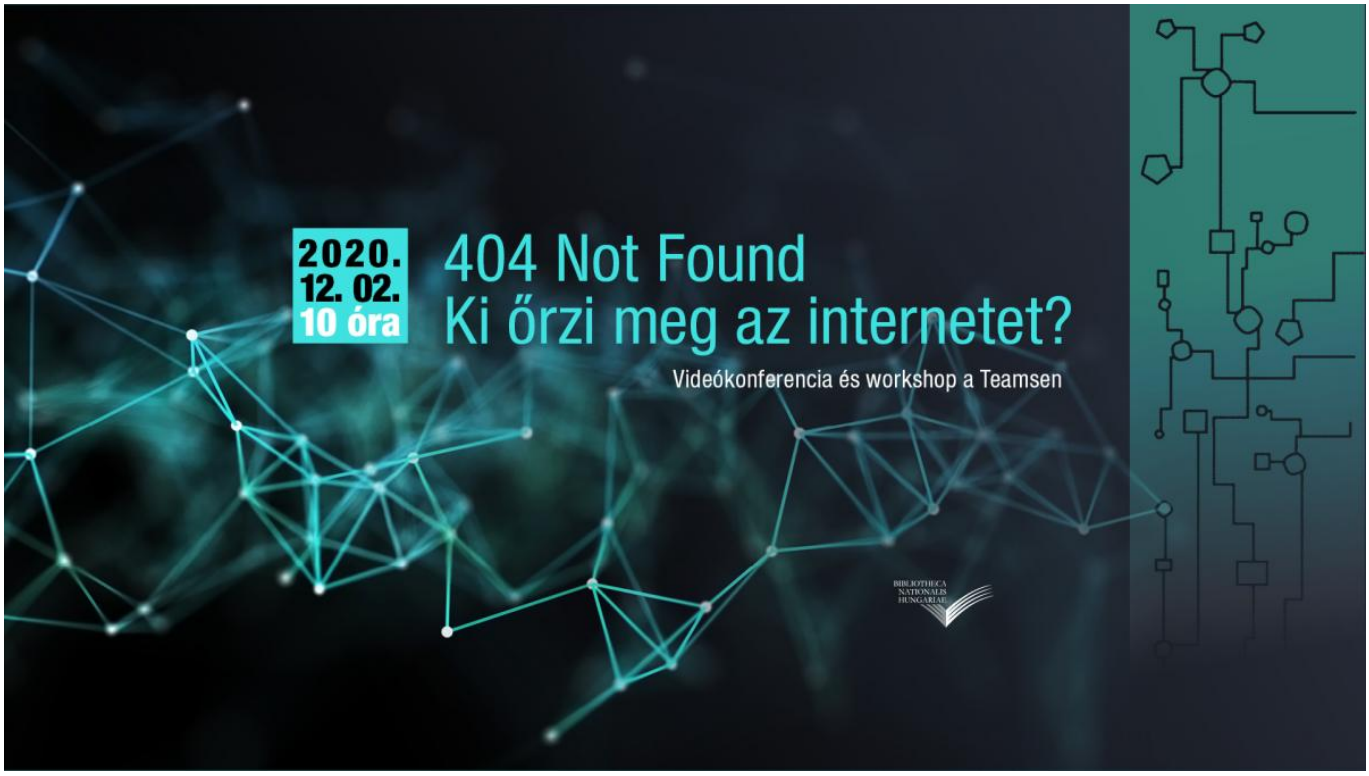
“Who will preserve the Internet?” – the conference in Videotorium

2021/01/13

Recordings of the presentations of the online conference held on December 2, 2020, as well as the deliverd presentations are now available.



[1]

Uploaded to our web archiving website have been presentations delivered at the conference “404 Not Found – Who will preserve the Internet? [2]” held last December, as well as the availability of software products described at the afternoon workshop. On top of that, recordings of the presentations are available in Videotorium.

Materials of the conference [3]

Availability of video recordings [4] in Videotorium

In addition, we would like to bring to your attention our free course entitled “Archiving the Internet as a public collection task [5]”, organized by the Hungarian Library Institute, that will take place on February 9–12, 2021 in an online form. (Application deadline is February 2, 2021).

The course will be expanded with the introduction of new tools, services and projects, which will soon be included in the curriculum available on our website [6].
2021/01/13 - 10:42

Source URL: https://oszk.hu/en/news/%E2%80%9Cwho-will-preserve-internet%E2%80%9D-conference-videotorium

Links:
[1] https://oszk.hu/sites/default/files/1920x1080px_h%C3%A1tt%C3%A9rk%C3%A9p_404-Konferencia_2020.jpg
[2] http://www.oszk.hu/en/events/404-not-found-video-conference-and-workshop
[3] https://webarchivum.oszk.hu/szakembereknek/404-not-found-workshop/404-workshop-2020-december-2/
[4] https://videotorium.hu/en/channels/5018/404-not-found-ki-orzi-meg-az-internetet-2020
[5] https://ki.oszk.hu/tanurssok/az-internet-archivalasa-mint-kozgyujtemenyi-feladat
[6] https://webarchivum.oszk.hu/szakembernek/tanurss-es-e-learning/
[7] https://oszk.hu/en/category/foszotar-es-pozicionalo/hirek