On the initiative of the United Nations Children's Fund, UNICEF, the Nova Hvylja Association of Ukrainian Nationality Youth and Families, the National Széchényi Library, Móra Book Publishing House and Petőfi Cultural Agency invited hundreds of Ukrainian refugees living in Hungary and their relatives to the Capital Circus of Budapest to begin the school year with a fabulous experience.

The organisers presented the invited children with five hundred copies of the collection of stories entitled Ribizli a világ végén [Ribizli at the End of the World], translated into Ukrainian, which was published last year by the National Library and its partners.
