In 2024, we will take a major step forward in the history of Tolkien studies in Hungary with the opening of a 100-volume Tolkien Collection in the National Library of Foreign Literature. This will be celebrated with the traditional Tolkien Day programme: a variety of lectures, workshops, board games, small activities and the traditional toast in honour of Tolkien. The Middle-earth Fair will also reopen.

PROGRAMME

10.00 Official unveiling of the Tolkien Collection

10.30–17.00 Presentations and workshops (in Hungarian)

In between the presentations, there will be many other activities. You can take home a souvenir with elf writing, there will be elf hair braiding, a quiz, and singing together.

In our games room you can relax by trying out Tolkien-inspired board games, and there will also be a chance to make handicrafts: bead weaving and bookmark making.

Our multi-station game features logic challenges where only the most skilful can reach the dwarves' treasure.

The projects and events of the Hungarian Tolkien Society (MTT) will also be presented. Visit our stands to find out about the Spring Meeting, the Tolkien Camp, the Tolkien Letter Writing Competition, the KószaKommando, and how our journal, Lassi Laurië, is produced.

You can also browse the products of the Middle-earth Fair all day long.
