PROGRAMME

22 June 2024, Saturday 4 pm – 2 am

Floor 5 (main entrance)

TÉR/KÉP [SPACE/IMAGE] – 30-MINUTE PERFORMANCE BY THE FELEDI PROJECT

[4]The dance theatre performance is an artistic production that combines the concepts of space and visual maps with the tools of dance and theatre to create a unique narrative and experience for the audience. This performance aims to explore physical and emotional spaces through a combination of human movement, visual arts and theatrical elements. The performance is inspired by spaces and images, but also aims to address the relationship between visual art and dance in a broader context, and the inspirational influence of painting on movement.

Over the past fourteen years, under the artistic direction of János Feledi, the Feledi Project [5] has become one of the most versatile dance companies in Hungary, with a diverse repertoire, artists and high-quality performances.
The main goal of the Feledi Project is to preserve Hungarian artistic and cultural values and traditions while strengthening excellence in artistic creation. They strive to bring Hungarian and internationally inspired dance theatre performances to as many places as possible. Emphasis will be placed on presenting and promoting productions combining different artistic disciplines, including the more popular and progressive performing arts. Fourteen years – more than thirty cities on three continents (America, Africa, Europe) – thousands of spectators.

INDOOR PLAYGROUND BY HOMOLUDENS.HU ASSOCIATION

[10]

Our team has been running indoor playgrounds, craft workshops and creativity programmes across the country for twenty-five years. In 2023, there were more than 150 days where we taught children and adults how to play games or do crafts. In Budapest, we have three board game clubs to come to, so we have a wealth of experience in which games work effectively at events with a diverse mix of visitors.

MINDIG AZ A PERC [ALWAYS THAT MINUTE…]
Bori Orbán and Kristóf Pánczél's chanson evening

Bori Orbán (vocals) and Kristóf Pánczél (piano, vocals) will enchant the audience with French and Hungarian chansons. With French melodies, the young singer and actress will evoke a time when this genre said everything about the world of emotions and love. Bori Orbán's album Ma chanson, released in 2021, tells the story of her musical life. Bori and Kristóf met at the Etűd Conservatory, where Kristóf taught Bori classical singing and voice training. It was then that the possibility of working together arose. Since then they have performed at many events in Budapest and in the countryside.

NE KÉRDEZD, KI VOLTAM! [DON’T ASK WHO I WAS!]
Karády-evening: solo performance by Eszter Nagy-Kálózy

Eszter Nagy-Kálózy and Róbert Vörös, the director, have jointly conceived this independent evening, which is based primarily on the songs of Katalin Karády, and takes us back to the forties with piano accompaniment and some prose.
"It was in the mid-seventies... My dad bought Katalin Karády's record, which was not allowed to be listened to or seen in cinemas until then, because it had been banned for a couple of decades. My dad loved her deep, booming voice... My mum was not very happy that this "femme fatale" had moved in with us, but she let it happen. That's how I got to know these songs. I started singing in the bathroom, I started "humming", I put towels in my hair to make it look longer, and I felt this femme fatale phenomena in me. Then 25 years passed, and Péter Bacsó called me and said he wanted me to come to the casting of the movie Smouldering Cigarette... Coincidence? Luck? Something more? And here I am again, under the spell of these wonderful songs..."

PUSKÁS, THE MUSICAL – Excerpts from the highly successful show

[29]For the programme, the creators have chosen songs that evoke important moments in Puskás' biography. The visuals are enhanced by dance artists and visual effects on the led wall. In between the songs the musical's producer László Szabó will narrate the concert and talk to fellow curators. There will also be a quiz, with three winners receiving a gift pack of merchandise from Puskás, the musical.

The production will feature five performers singing seven songs and the spectacle will be accompanied by choreography performed by eight dance artists. They will all be dressed in the costumes worn in the performance, which perfectly convey the mood of the time.

The exhibition of tourism posters entitled "Let's travel in the land of our country!" is open to the public in the main and small rooms of the library [32] and in the corridor of the library.

The exhibition of tourism posters entitled "Let's travel in the land of our country!" presents a cross-section of posters from the collection of the NSZL's Map, Poster, and Small Print Collection, advertising domestic travel and holiday opportunities in the 1920s and 1930s. In addition to posters inviting visitors to various regions of the country and to visit cities, the exhibition offers an insight into the advertising life of the beaches that became popular at that time, and also offers a look at the attractive landscapes and destinations of boat and train journeys.

Concert of the Bálint Uher Quartet in the Baroque Hall

The quartet was founded in 2022 at the initiative of saxophonist Bálint Uher-Győrfi. Their repertoire consists of original compositions, reimagined traditional jazz standards and compositions by well-known contemporary artists. From century-old ballads and energetic bebop themes to modern avant-garde compositions with unparalleled metre, their performances are dominated by instrumental improvisation.

[36]The members of the ensemble are musicians who have performed in several orchestras, have won prizes at Hungarian jazz competitions and have performed on stages in several European countries in addition to Hungary.

Members of the Bálint Uher Quartet:
Bálint Uher-Győrfi – saxophone
János Egri Jr. – piano
Géza Jónás – contrabass
Ambrus Richter – drums
